EDmarket Opens Call for Presentations at EDspaces 2017

(Silver Spring, MD) — The Education Market Association \(EDmarket\) is calling upon industry professionals to share knowledge and business expertise through a unique and valuable speaking opportunity at the EDspaces Conference and Expo, which is held in conjunction with the AIA Committee on Architecture for Education Fall Conference, October 25-27, 2017 in Kansas City, MO.

Industry experts are invited to submit proposals for engaging presentations that inform EDspaces attendees about proven practices, push the leading edge of the profession, and motivate the pursuit of excellence. The EDspaces Education Committee is seeking to weave together a series of curated sessions that inform and support the future of educational facilities in the following program areas: Pedagogy, Process/Operations, Infrastructure, Technology, and Community Engagement.

“EDspaces has earned a reputation for high-quality education focused on the needs of educational facility professionals empowered to deliver future-forward educational environments,” says Jim McGarry, President/CEO of the Education Market Association. “EDspaces is the perfect solution for people dedicated to integrating space and pedagogical needs to yield the greatest benefits to student learning.”

EDspaces is an international conference and expo that brings together the key professionals who plan, design and manage innovative learning environments with the dealers, service providers and manufacturers who support them. EDspaces attendees include buyers and decision makers from school districts, colleges and universities from across the country; dealers; and architects and interior designers.

Questions on the EDspaces Education program should be directed to Adrienne Dayton at adayton@edmarket.org or (800) 395-5550, ext. 1031.

The deadline to submit a proposal is Friday, March 31.
